

5.5 Community Links: How is the wider community involved in history education at the school and beyond?

At All Saints we are proactive in developing community links which impact positively on the learning and teaching of history, wherever possible we aim to conduct historical learning outside of the classroom.

Whole School Centenary Project that involved working with local artists, actors and charities.

Here children are working with local artist Benny to create poppies in a range of mediums.

Local actors came in to conduct workshops where children re-enacted a day in the life of a Tommy Showing our children's art at our annual Arts Festival.

5.5 Community Links: How is the wider community involved in history education at the school and beyond?

Continued....

2

Pupils from All Saints CE Primary School remember those lost in WW1 at the War Memorial in Dartmouth Park

All the pupils from the school paraded from Wilford Road to Dartmouth Park where they were met by members of the Oldbury Branch of the Royal British Legion who were on hand to help the children remember those lost in WW1 in this centenary year of the start of the Great War. A service was held followed by the last post and two minutes silence.

Each class had made its own wreath to lay at the foot of the War Memorial and some of the pupils had crosses to lay.

Prior to the visit to the Park the children had studied WW1 as a topic and the photographs below show the culmination of that project.

'Friends of Dartmouth Park' newsletter, June 2014.

Our whole school visit to our local cenotaph, along with members of the Oldbury Branch of the Royal British Legion and Friends of Dartmouth Park was featured in their newsletter