

Germany is blamed and punished by Britain France and America for causing the First World War 1 in 1919.	Germany loses many and is not allowed many weapons and has to pay a massive fine in the 1920s.	Many people in Germany are very poor because of the fine it has to pay.	Britain and France let Hitler take over Austria and Czechoslovakia hoping that this will stop war breaking out
Hitler comes to power in Germany in 1933. He makes his army, navy and air force bigger - nobody stops him.	Hitler takes over Austria and Czechoslovakia because they were the same race as the Germans.	Some Germans land were given to Poland after World War 1. Hitler wants them back.	Hitler comes to an agreement with the USSR to invade Poland in 1939.
Britain and France go to war against Germany after it invades Poland in 1939.	In the 1930s Britain and France hope that Germany will attack the USSR Which they do like because it is a communist country).	Germany quickly invades, Holland, Norway and France soon after the start of the war in 1939.	Germany's people are upset by the way that it is punished after World War 1.
Britain stands alone in 1940 after its troops have be rescued from Dunkirk in France.	During the Battle of Britain (1940) Germany tries to destroy Britain's defences to get ready to invade.	Hitler changes tactics and bombs British cities during the Blitz (1940-41)	