

Who am I?

I am a very rich lady, you can tell by the lovely silk clothes.
I have velvet gloves with golden ends.
I am very thin because my dress pushes in my stomach, it has a stomacher.
I have a huge farthingale with lovely golden gems on it.
I wear a pink rose on my netting ruff.
I have golden gems with coloured diamonds inside.
My servants have to stitch my clothes up some times.
I wear a lot of gold and jewelry to show I am very rich.
I am holding a fan with gems round it and gold in the middle.
I have a very impressive headband made with gold and gems.
I have a black heart shaped collar with coloured gems all around it.

Who am I?

I am quite fat and very big, I also love gold and silver, precious stones and silks. I wear a golden garter on one leg and a satin on the other. I have a large feather on my velvet hat. But I have a double chin so I wear a beard. I am impressively rich, so I carry a golden handed dagger just in case. I have got golden gloves. I wear gold duck shoes. I must wear a VERY large codpiece to impress the ladies and because it's fashion

Who am I?

I have a little brown dog.

I am poor.

I wear old tatty battered holed clothes.

I wear a woollen grey dress with a brown lace at the top to tie it up with.

I wear a white shift under my kirtle and a red petticoat under my kirtle to.

My dog is cute and skinny with a black nose and ears.

My head and hair is covered by my white coif because I'm not allowed to show my head to God. I'm only allowed to take my coif off to more important people than me.

I'm a servant.

I carry water on some wood that goes round my neck with chains coming down with buckets of water in them.
